MEDIA INFORMATION

Season passes must be requested in writing prior to the start of the season. Passes for single games must be requested by noon of the day before the game (Friday noon for Sunday games). Anyone holding season passes should notify the Hawks office of their intentions of covering the game to reserve press row seating. We will again utilize the floor press row as well as the hockey press box to accommodate the press this season.

Ted Turner

R. E. "Ted" Turner has become one of sports' best-known figures in the last four years, not only as an executive but also as a performer.

He has been dynamic and fast-moving as owner of the Atlanta Braves National League baseball team, and his association with the Hawks has helped make the National Basketball Association team a vibrant part of the Atlanta sports community.

His presence in the Hawks' front office has been felt. Attendance for NBA games at The Omni has improved tremendously under his guidance, and the team has drafted and signed top college players and free agents during his tenure.

A man who isn't afraid to take a chance, Turner has made vast strides in the television industry, too. His "Super Station", WTBS-TV, which has a sports-movies format, is beamed into 46 states and reaches five million homes via satellite.

As an athlete, Turner reached the pinnacle as a yachting competitor in 1977 when he skippered "Courageous" to victory in the prestigious America's Cup races. He was named Yachtsman of the Year for the third time by the New York Yacht Club on the strength of those wins.

Turner's success in the America's Cup came as no surprise. He has been a dominant force in international yachting for many years, having previously competed in the America's Cup series. He was the first winner of the Southern Ocean Racing Conference in 1966. He was the Y Flyer National Champion in 1963, the North American Champion of the Flying Dutchman Class in 1965 and three times winner of the U.S. 5.5 Meter Championship. He has won the prestigious Scandinavian Gold Cup twice and was named the World Ocean Racing Champion in 1972.

Turner, 40, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, on November 19, 1938. He attended Brown University where he was vice-president of the Debating Union and Commodore of the Yacht Club.

He began his business career as an account executive for Turner Advertising Company in Savannah, Ga. He became general manager of Turner Advertising in Macon, Ga., in 1960 at the age of 22 and in 1963, became president and chief executive officer of the various Turner companies with offices in Atlanta.

In 1970 Turner Communications Corporation merged with Rice Broadcasting with Turner becoming general manager of the flagship station, WTCG in Atlanta.

The Federal Communications Commission approved use of a satellite system in 1976 which allowed Turner Communications to beam the "Super 17" signal across the United States.

Turner serves on the Board of Directors of Southern Outdoor Markets, Inc., the Board of Directors of the Association of Independent Television stations and as a member of the Atlanta Advertising Club. He is a member of the Atlanta Yacht Club, the Capital City Club and is an overseas commodore of the Royal Ocean Racing Club.

Turner and his wife, the former Jane Shirley Smith of Birmingham, Ala., have five children; Laura Lee, R. E. Turner IV, Rhett, Beau, and Jean.

Michael Gearon

President and Governor

In September of 1977, Michael Gearon stepped into the front office of the Hawks as President and General Manager as a favor to Ted Turner.

Gearon had planned to stay two weeks. Now two years later, he has turned over the General Manager title to Lewis Schaffel, but remains with the club as President and Governor as well as sitting on the Board of Directors.

During his tenure as General Manager, Gearon brought Tom McMillen and Terry Furlow to the Hawks through trades and pulled off the biggest heist on the free agent market in recent years last summer when he signed Danny Roundfield, who turned out to be the team's MVP for the 78-79 season.

In addition, Gearon orchestrated the restructuring of the front office into what he felt is one of the best in the NBA.

In business, Gearon built one of the top real estate development companies in the country, Gearon and Company, and brought about the concept of office parks.

Executive Park, Perimeter Center, and Coastal States are three of his top projects in Atlanta, and the first two are considered two of the finest office parks in Atlanta.

In the early 70's Gearon sold his interest in the company to his partners in order to spend more time with his family, traveling, and partaking in his biggest interest in Atlanta — the Hawks.

The 45-year-old Gearon lives in Atlanta with his wife, Pat, and their children, Tierney, 17; Michael, Jr., 14, and Timothy, 11.

Stan Kasten

Vice-President and Assistant General Manager

One of the youngest administrators in professional sport, Stan Kasten enters his third season with the Hawks as Vice-President and Assistant General Manager.

The 27-year-old Kasten handles many of the legal affairs for the club. He is also responsible for putting together the schedule for the exhibition season as well as pushing and pulling with the league office to get the Hawks the best possible regular season schedule.

He serves the club as alternate governor and with the NBA expanding for the 80-81 season, Kasten was selected for the expansion committee to decide all the details involved with the league's growth.

Kasten joined forces with Turner in October of 1976 and after spending a year with the Braves and Turner Communications, was assigned to the Hawks front office.

A 1976 graduate of Columbia Law School in New York City, Kasten received his undergraduate degree in psychology from NYU in 1973. Between studies, Kasten played semi-pro baseball for three years in the Jersey Shore League.

Kasten and his wife, Helen, reside in Atlanta.

Lewis Schaffel

Executive Vice-President and General Manager

When Michael Gearon decided he needed a basketball man in the general manager's chair, he looked for the best basketball mind around. He found that in Lewis Schaffel.

Schaffel is not new to old Hawks fans. The 36-year-old executive was the General Manager of the New Orleans Jazz two years ago and was instrumental in luring Leonard "Truck" Robinson to sign with the jazz after the 6-foot-8 forward played out his option with the Hawks.

Being a basketball executive was not Schaffel's intention when he graduated from Howard Law School in Washington. But his old friend Nate Archibald, with whom he has grown up playing stickball and basketball in Brooklyn, asked Schaffel to represent him and he accepted.

He formed All Pro Reps., Inc., and as an agent, handled 35 professional basketball players, including Austin Carr and Phil Chenier, as well as Archibald. Schaffel's company involvement lasted seven years. His negotiating techniques impressed general managers around the league and when the New Orleans job opened, Schaffel decided it was time to try his hand at operating a franchise.

After one season with the Jazz, he was offered opportunities to join other franchises, but decided to wait until his wife, Barbara, finished working on her Ph.D. at Tulane.

This summer, he was again in contact with a number of NBA teams. But after talking with Ted Turner, Schaffel decided Atlanta was the place to be and accepted his new position as Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the Hawks. He will be a member of the club's Board of Directors as well as an alternate governor.

Steven Funk

Business Manager and Controller

Steven Funk begins his second season with the Hawks organization as Business Manager and Controller.

The 28-year-old Funk is responsible for the handling of daily financial operations and cash management for the club. Through his efforts, the Hawks' accounting is operated solely within the organization and his policies have enabled the financial end to run proficiently.

A 1973 graduate of the University of Georgia, Funk became a Certified Public Accountant in August of 1975. He has worked in both private and public accounting in the Atlanta area including Peat, Marwick, Mitchell, and Company, one of the "Big 8" accounting firms.

Funk will marry Judy Elson shortly after the start of the season and reside in Atlanta.

Bob Longmire

Director of Marketing

Bob Longmire has joined the Hawks organization as Director of Marketing for the upcoming season.

A graduate of LSU with a Masters degree, Longmire worked in the school's athletic department for one year before joining the New Orleans Jazz.

His association with the Jazz as Director of Sales lasted four years, including a year with Hawks General Manager Lewis Schaffel, who encouraged Longmire to come to Atlanta.

While in New Orleans, he started Southern Sports Ventures, Inc., dealing in sports promotions. The company managed the New Orleans Nets, a World Team Tennis franchise, and promoted various professional sports exhibitions in Louisiana and Mississippi.

In addition to his duties with the Hawks, the 29-year-old Longmire will take an active role in the Turner-owned sport franchises.

Longmire and his wife, Karlene, will reside in Atlanta with their three children, Kimberly, 7, Bobby, 4, and John, 1.

Lee Stepancik

Director of Promotions

Lee Stepancik enters her sixth season with the Hawks devoting full time to the Promotions department.

Her responsibilities range from entertainment at the home games to newspaper and television advertising. Lee's insight into promotions has enabled her to arrange many outstanding programs which has been of direct influence on the record attendance figures set by the Hawks.

A 1970 graduate of Florida State University, Lee joined the Omni marketing department in 1974 and worked with the building, Flames and Hawks before devoting full time to the Hawks a year later.

A native of Miami, Florida, Lee and her husband, Joe, live in Marietta.

Lee Douglas

Director of Sales

Lee Douglas joined the Hawks in June of 1978 and it is his type of leadership which has enabled the marketing department to branch out.

His responsibilities encompass the full circle of sales, including season tickets, groups and program advertising.

The 27-year-old Douglas is a 1974 graduate of Georgia Tech in Industrial Management and received a Masters in Business Administration in Finance from Georgia State in 1978. Prior to his graduate studies, Douglas spent two years in the controllers department of Deposit Guarantee National Bank in Jackson, Mississippi.

An Atlanta native, Douglas and his wife, Nancy, live in Chamblee.

Frank Timmerman

Director of Sales

Sharing the duties of Director of Sales with Douglas, Frank Timmerman enters his third season with the Hawks organization.

During the past two seasons, Timmerman has been responsible for the growth of the highly-successful community nights and high school preliminary games.

A 1967 Furman graduate, the 33-year-old director also holds a masters from Southern Seminary. Timmerman came to the Hawks in July of 1977 from the Department of Human Resources where he served as a family counselor.

He and his wife, Paulette, live in Atlanta.

Skip Caray

Broadcaster

"The game isn't over until the fat announcer stops talking," screamed Skip Caray into the microphone as he paraphrased Washington coach Dick Motta when the Hawks toppled Motta's club by 18 points in game 6 of their best-of-seven series.

It is that type of wit, combined with his honesty and knowledge of the game which has made the Hawks announcer one of the best in the business.

Caray will be in front of the Hawks' microphone this year for the 13th season, dating back to the club's days in St. Louis. He knows basketball. Specifically, he knows the NBA and the Hawks and has displayed broadcasting versatility during his career by announcing baseball, football and soccer.

Believe it or not, Caray even once handled the play-by-play of the Ringling Brothers Circus. But interviewing may be his forte, as he once asked the famous San Diego KGB chicken mascot, "Why DID you cross the road?"

That's Skip, a witty fellow who keeps the world of sports in proper perspective.

In addition to his duties with the Hawks, Caray does play-by-play and color commentary for Atlanta Braves baseball on both radio and television.

A 1961 honor graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, Caray has been honored as the Georgia Sportscaster of the Year on three different occasions and serves as the state chairman for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

His wife, Paula, runs a popular hairstyling salon in downtown Atlanta. The Carays and daughter, Shayelyn, 10, live in Northeast Atlanta. Two children by a previous marriage, Chip, 14, and Cindy, 12, live in St. Louis.

Chet Wright

Director of Public Relations/ Broadcaster

Variety is the spice of life and Chet Wright is the Hawks' prime example as he enters his third season with the organization.

Joining the Hawks in August of 1977, Wright began in the sales department and served as Director of Operations for the club's home-away-from-home games in Charlotte, North Carolina during the 77-78 season.

At the conclusion of the season, Wright was named the Hawks' Director of Public Relations, a position he still holds, and is responsible for media relations, editorial for publications, general publicity, and the coordination of media information for Hawk games.

Wright broke in as the "Second Voice" of the Hawks last March and will handle the radio play-by-play this season whenever Caray's duties take him to television.

A 1976 graduate of Miami (Ohio) University in Radio-Television, the 25-year-old native of South Bend, Indiana, was the play-by-play man of Redskin basketball for three seasons and has also broadcasted football and baseball games.

Hubie Brown

Head Coach

What can Hubie Brown do for an encore?

In three coaching seasons under Brown, the Hawks have increased their win total from 31 to 41 to 46. The last two have resulted in post-season play, something the Hawks and their fans were unaccustomed to for five years.

The 46-year-old mentor has been honored with coaching awards in each of the last two seasons, being named the NBA Coach of the Year by the media following the incredible 77-78 season. He then received the CBS/Chevrolet award last year after the Hawks stretched the defending champion Washington Bullets to seven games before falling in the second round.

But Brown feels the work has just begun and his team, the NBA's youngest, possesses the foundation to reach greater heights in the years to come.

The Hawks turnaround does not surprise their head coach as Brown has enjoyed success at all levels during his coaching career following his days as a basketball and baseball player at Niagara University.

Brown began his coaching career at St. Mary's High School in Little Falls, New York, in 1956. After a two-year Army stint and a master's degree in education from Niagara, he resumed his high school coaching career, which included football, basketball, and basketball, in Cranford and Fair Lawn, New Jersey.

In 1967 Brown became an assistant coach at William and Mary in Virginia and was named the top assistant at Duke University a year later.

During his early days in coaching, Brown cultivated a reputation as the best basketball clinician in the country. He would work over 50 camps in a summer along the East Coast and quickly became known as a basketball genius as well as a superb entertainer.

In 1972, Milwaukee Bucks' coach Larry Costello, Brown's former teammate at Niagara, named Brown his assistant. For two seasons, the Bucks captured the Midwest Division title and took the Boston Celtics to the seventh game of the 1974 NBA Championship Series.

Brown became the head coach of the Kentucky Colonels, of the now-defunct American Basketball Association, in 1975. It was a team of talent but the Colonels had never won a championship and was labeled a "perennial bridesmaid." The new coach demanded teamwork from a squad which had shown little of it, and the club responded by winning its only ABA Championship.

When the two leagues merged in 1976, the Kentucky franchise folded and Brown became the Hawks' head coach. The rest is history. In three years, he has turned the club around from a yearly also-ran to a solid playoff contender.

As a hobby, Brown continues to work a minimum of 20 clinics each summer throughout the United States and Canada for High School and College Coaches.

Brown resides in Dunwoody with his wife, Claire, and four children; Molly, 18; Ginny, 17; Julie, 14; and Brendan, 9.

Michael Fratello

Assistant Coach

Michael Fratello enters his second season as an assistant to Hubie Brown on the club's coaching staff.

The 32-year-old Fratello joined the Hawks in the summer of '78 after spending nine seasons coaching at the high school and college level.

A 1969 graduate of Montclair State College, Fratello began his coaching career at Hackensack High School in New Jersey, coaching football and basketball.

A year later, he became the Graduate Assistant at the University of Rhode Island and continued as freshman basketball coach the following season when the school won their first Yankee Conference Championship in 11 years.

Fratello became the assistant coach at Madison College in Harrisonburg, Virginia in 1972. In three years at Madison, the school won the State College Championship and participated in the NCAA Division II Tournament. For the three seasons, the school's record was 55-22.

During the three years prior to joining the Hawks, Fratello was the assistant coach at Villanova under Rollie Massimino where the Wildcats placed third in the 1977 NIT and lost the 1978 NCAA Eastern Regional championship game to Duke, the eventual tournament runner-up. While the Hawk assistant was at Villanova, the club compiled a 62-30 record.

Fratello lives in Dunwoody with his wife, Susan, and two children, Kristi Lynn, 6, and Marc, 3.

Brendan Suhr

Assistant Coach

Entering his first season with the Hawks as assistant coach is Brendan Suhr, who was named to the post this past June, replacing Frank Layden.

The 28-year-old Suhr has spent the last six years as an assistant at the college level, the first at the University of Detroit and the last five at Fairfield University.

In his six seasons, his clubs have compiled a record of 106-57 and Fairfield advanced to three post-season tournaments, including the 1978 NIT when the Stags finished 22-3.

A 1973 graduate of Montclair State, Suhr led his school to the NCAA College Division tournament twice. As a senior, he captained the squad and was named the team's MVP as he finished second in the nation in free throw percentage and led the club in assists.

Suhr's association with Hubie Brown is not a new experience as he played for the Hawk coach at Fair Lawn (NJ) High School and went on to win all-league honors as a senior.

This past May, he received a master's degree in Educational Administration from Fairfield University.

Rich Buckelew

Head Scout

Richie Buckelew serves the Hawks in coordinating the club's scouting efforts between professional opponents as well as the up-and-coming players in the college ranks.

His association with Hubie Brown dates back to pre-high school days when he and Brown used to play on the playgrounds of New Jersey. His family moved to California where he became an all-state high school performer.

Buckelew then enrolled at Seton Hall and played basketball for two-and-a-half years before returning to California and Pepperdine University. He served as captain of the team as a senior and earned first team honors at the guard position in the West Coast Athletic Conference.

After graduating in 1960, Buckelew spent two years playing for Hazelton in the Eastern League before going into the coaching ranks as an assistant at Upsala College. He later became the head coach and in his second season, led Upsala to their first winning season in ten years and the school has yet to suffer a losing year since.

He left coaching after the 72-73 season and split his time between teaching and scouting, which included work for Brown and the Kentucky Colonels of the old ABA.

The 43-year-old Buckelew and his wife, Polly, moved to Atlanta this summer with their three sons: Michael, 19, who will play basketball at Oglethorpe this year, Brian, 18, and Ty, 9.

Joe O'Toole

Trainer/Traveling Secretary

Most basketball fans think a man would have to be crazy to sit on the Hawks' bench for eleven consecutive years and never get to play. But the man who sits there and enjoys it—it's his job.

As trainer and traveling secretary for the Atlanta franchise, Joe O'Toole can be considered the Hawks' all-purpose man. Besides treating the club's injured players, the man in the familiar red slacks and white shirt handles the often-forgotten necessities like hotel and flight reservations and bus charters.

One of the most respected men in the athletic training business, Joe served four years as chairman of the National Basketball Trainers Association before stepping down last season.

Born in Syracuse, New York, Joe earned his bachelors degree from Cortland (N.Y.) State, and a physical therapy certificate from the Mayo Clinic. The Hawks trainer then received his masters degree from Indiana University and accepted an assistant trainer position at the University of Wisconsin. He was busy patching up disabled Badgers when the Hawks' job became available.

COLLEGE: New Mexico State '70

PRO EXPERIENCE: Two Years

BIRTHDATE: November 6, 1949

BIRTHPLACE: Valhalla, New York

RESIDENCE: College Park, Georgia

HIGH SCHOOL: Gorton (Yonkers, NY)

Signed by Atlanta as a free agent, July 25, 1977.

1978-79 SEASON — Suffered a separated right shoulder in the season opener at Indiana and was sidelined for the next 25 games. Never regained effectiveness of rookie season. Late season shoulder problems caused his field goal percentage to dip to a season ending .377. Despite playing in just 54 games, his 138 assists ranked fourth on the club. Scored in double figures nine times, including a season high 17 points at Phoenix (2/9). At 5-foot-8, Criss was the shortest player in the league last season. Served as the analyst on Hawk telecasts with Skip Caray early in the season when he was out with the shoulder separation.

CAREER — Broke into the NBA after spending two years playing AAU basketball in Las Cruces, N.M., and five years in the Eastern League. Led Hartford to the 1974 Eastern League title and was twice named the MVP of the league. Averaged 34 points a game in his final Eastern League season (76-77). Ranked third on the Hawks in scoring as a rookie with an 11.4 average. Scored a career high 30 points at Phoenix (12/4/77), including 20 fourth quarter points, tying a Coliseum record for most points scored in a quarter. Ranks tenth in steals on the all-time Hawks list.

COLLEGE — Directed New Mexico State to a third place in the 1970 NCAA tournament, losing in the semi-finals to UCLA, the eventual champions. College teammate of Kansas City's Sam Lacey.

PERSONAL — Played against the Harlem Globetrotters while toiling in the Eastern League. Spent the past summer playing in the Baker League in Philadelphia to strengthen the injured shoulder. One of the most popular players among the fans. Nicknames include "Mosquito" and "Bamm".

John Drew

POSITION: Forward
HEIGHT: 6-6
WEIGHT: 205
COLLEGE: Gardner-Webb '76
PRO EXPERIENCE: Five Years
BIRTHDATE: September 30, 1954
BIRTHPLACE: Vrendenburg, Alabama
RESIDENCE: College Park, Georgia
HIGH SCHOOL: J.F. Shields, Beatrice, AL

Selected by Atlanta in the second round (25th pick) of the 1974 Draft.

1978-79 SEASON — Ranked 12th in the NBA scoring race for the second consecutive year, this time with a 22.7 average, after ranking as high as 6th during the season. One of the league's most explosive scorers, Drew went through an eight-game stretch in which he scored a point a minute for a 34.8 scoring average. Scored 30 or more points in 17 games, including a career high 50-point performance against the Denver Nuggets (12/30) and an Omni record-shattering 50-point performance. Led the Hawks in scoring for the fifth time in his five-year career and fell just five points shy of reaching the 1800-point plateau. His 6.6 rebounding average was the lowest of his career, but the addition of Danny Roundfield was the key to the drop. Topped the club in steals with 128 and set a personal high with seven steals in a game. Plagued by foot problems during the playoffs, he averaged just 16.1 points per game, third on the club.

CAREER — Seventh on the all-time Hawks scoring list with 8,310 points for a 22.0 scoring average, third on the list. Ranks in the Hawks top ten in 16 of 20 categories. Drew has scored 40 or more points in 13 games over his five seasons. Grabbed a career high 25 rebounds vs. Los Angeles, December 28, 1974. Named to the Eastern Conference All-Star team in 1976. Basketball Weekly's Rookie-of-the-Year in 1975 and was runner-up to Jamaal Wilkes in the Sporting News, A.P. and U.P.I. balloting. Led the NBA in offensive rebounds (375) as a rookie.

COLLEGE/HIGH SCHOOL — Played at Gardner-Webb for two seasons before applying for the hardship draft. Averaged 25.9 points and 13 rebounds in his final year while shooting .524 from the floor. His college high was 44 points against Johnson C. Smith. Selected first-team NAIA All-American in 1974 when he led the Bulldogs to a 25-3 record and a berth in the NAIA tournament. As a high school senior, Drew averaged 44 points per game and notched consecutive scoring nights of 77 and 74 points.

PERSONAL — Co-Captain of the Hawks for the past two seasons. Nickname is "J.D."

Terry Furlow

POSITION: Guard
HEIGHT: 6-4
WEIGHT: 190
COLLEGE: Michigan State '76
PRO EXPERIENCE: Three Years
BIRTHDATE: October 18, 1954
BIRTHPLACE: Camden, Arkansas
RESIDENCE: Atlanta, Georgia
HIGH SCHOOL: Northern (Flint, MI)

Drafted by Philadelphia in the first round (12th pick) of the 1976 Draft. Traded to Cleveland for future draft choices, October 3, 1977. Traded to Atlanta for Butch Lee and future considerations, January 31, 1979.

1978-79 SEASON — Joined the Hawks just before the All-Star break in a trade with the Cleveland Cavaliers as the Hawks sent rookie Butch Lee to the Cavs. Scored in double figures in 14 of his 29 games with the Hawks, including 10 of his last 14 heading into the playoffs. Established a new career high of 30 points at San Antonio (3/23), hitting 7-13 from the floor and 16-20 from the line, then followed with 21 the next night at Houston. Led the Hawks in scoring in three games. Though his scoring average (9.9) and his playing time (19.9) dropped due to the adjustment period following the trade, his free throw percentage (.857 — 60-70) and assists (81 — 2.8) went up. Averaged 15.1 points a game in the playoffs, including two 21-point nights against the Bullets, and shot .929 (26-28) from the charity stripe. Earlier in the season with the Cavs, Furlow set a Capital Centre record for most points scored in a quarter with 23 in the final period.

CAREER — Played sparingly as a rookie with Philadelphia and averaged just 2.6 points a game as the Sixers reached the finals before losing to Portland. Missed the first two months of the 77-78 season after joining the Cavs due to viral attacks. Furlow's field goal percentage has risen each season with added playing time and his .483 mark this season shows his shooting ability. Owns a .947 (36-38) free throw percentage in playoff action covering three seasons. Converted ten consecutive free throws in one quarter against the New Orleans Jazz (2/7/78) to set a Richfield Coliseum record while a Cavalier.

COLLEGE — Enjoyed an outstanding college career at Michigan State where he became the all-time leading scorer in Spartan history with 1,777 points in 100 games, a mark since broken by Earvin "Magic" Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers. Furlow was the third leading scorer in the nation as a senior, posting a 29.4 scoring average and was named to several All-American teams. Led Flint Northern to the Michigan high school state title as a senior.

PERSONAL — Operates a basketball camp at Hillsdale College in Michigan with Cleveland's Campy Russell. An excellent singer, he also enjoys backgammon and fishing.

Jack Givens

POSITION: Forward
HEIGHT: 6-5
WEIGHT: 205
COLLEGE: Kentucky '78
PRO EXPERIENCE: One Year
BIRTHDATE: September 21, 1956
BIRTHPLACE: Lexington, Kentucky
RESIDENCE: Lexington, Kentucky
HIGH SCHOOL: Bryan School (Lexington)

Drafted by Atlanta in the first round (16th pick) of the 1978 Draft.

1978-79 — "Goose" had a typical up and down rookie season. His field goal percentage dropped from .554 in his senior year at Kentucky to .415 with the Hawks. Hit 9-9 from the floor in a 19-point effort at Denver in November and scored a career high 22 points in his first-ever NBA start at Houston (1/5), hitting 7-13 from the floor and 8-9 from the line while Drew was out with cellulitis. In his three starts, Givens averaged 17.7 points and 9.7 rebounds, including a career high 13 rebounds against the Bullets (1/6), while shooting .477 from the floor. Ended the season with erratic free throw shooting, missing five of his last six, but still shot a respectable .756 from the line for the season.

COLLEGE/HIGH SCHOOL — Led Kentucky to the 1978 NCAA Championship and was named the tournament's MVP after a 41-point performance in the title game against Duke. Second leading scorer in Wildcat history with 2,038 points to Dan Issel, now of the Denver Nuggets. Three-time All-SEC selection and Citizens Savings All-American as a senior. Ended his collegiate career with outstanding shooting percentages of .514 from the floor and .803 from the line. All-American performer at Bryan Station High School in Lexington and was named Kentucky's "Mr. Basketball" in 1974. Set a state high school tournament record with 25 rebounds as a senior.

PERSONAL — Toured Japan with his Kentucky teammates following graduation. One of four Wildcat players to be selected in the NBA Draft after the championship season.

Steve Hawes

10

POSITION: Center-Forward

HEIGHT: 6-9

WEIGHT: 220

COLLEGE: Washington '72

PRO EXPERIENCE: Five Years

BIRTHDATE: May 26, 1950

BIRTHPLACE: Seattle, Washington

RESIDENCE: Seattle, Washington

HIGH SCHOOL: Mercer Island, Washington

Selected by Cleveland in the second round (24th pick) of the 1972 Draft. Traded to Houston for a future draft choice and cash, September 11, 1972. Traded to Portland for John Johnson, November 13, 1975. Traded with Geoff Petrie to Atlanta for a future draft choice, August 5, 1976.

1978-79 SEASON — Re-entered the starting line-up when the Hawks were 30-29 and the club promptly went on to a season high 9-game winning streak. Finished second on the team in rebounding at 7.3, just three total rebounds ahead of Tree Rollins. The most consistent Hawk following the All-Star break Hawes averaged 11.4 points a game while shooting .524 from the floor and .827 from the line in the last 29 games. Matched his career high of 27 points at New Orleans (3/31). Led the Hawks front court in assists with 184 and set a new career high with 10 assists against San Diego early in the season. His 10.5 scoring average marked the second consecutive year he has averaged in double digits. Shot .818 from the line for the third time in his five-year career.

CAREER — After graduating from Washington, Hawes spent two season with the Canon team of Venice, Italy, where he averaged 24 points and 16 rebounds a game. He still holds the Italian League single season rebounding record with an average of better than 19 a game. A natural big forward, Hawes moved into the pivot after being traded to Atlanta. Suffered a broken leg and missed nearly half of the 76-77 season. Possesses one of the best outside shots in the league for a big man and owns a .479 career field goal percentage.

COLLEGE — Tallied a 20.8 scoring average for his college career at the University of Washington. Finished second twice and third once in the Pacific-Eight conference scoring race. Scored 32 points against Stanford for his collegiate high. Ranked third among the conference rebounding leaders behind UCLA's Bill Walton.

PERSONAL — Called "What the Hawks are all about" by coach Hubie Brown. Has the same birthday as teammates Tom McMillen and Dan Roundfield and is the eldest of the three. He and his wife, Ebbs, reside in Seattle during the off season.

Armond Hill

POSITION: Guard
HEIGHT: 6-4
WEIGHT: 190
COLLEGE: Princeton '76
BIRTHDATE: March 31, 1953
BIRTHPLACE: Brooklyn, New York
RESIDENCE: Atlanta, Georgia
HIGH SCHOOL: Bishop Ford (Brooklyn)

Selected by Atlanta in the first round (9th pick) of the 1976 Draft.

1978-79 SEASON — "Ironman" of the Hawks, having played in every game the past two seasons to stretch his regular season starting streak to 198 games, currently the third longest in the league behind Artis Gilmore of Chicago and Randy Smith of Cleveland. Ranked ninth in the league in assists at 5.9 a game and matched his career high with a 16-assist night against Seattle. Hill's 10.2 scoring average marked the first time he has averaged double figures in his three-year career. Picked up the scoring slack on the road, averaging 11.5 points a game away from home and 9.0 at the Omni. Finished the season strong with 16 and 24-point nights in the last two games on 16-32 from the floor. Had 20+ scoring nights, with only the final one coming at home. Matched his career high of 26 points at Cleveland (11/28). Hill connected on his last 16 free throw attempts and ended the season with an .854 mark from the line, his career best, and now owns a three-year mark of .838. His field goal accuracy has improved each season, though only .418 for his career.

CAREER — Became a starter during the 76-77 season, his rookie year, when Tom Henderson was shipped to Washington for Truck Robinson and has yet to sit down. His .838 career free throw percentage is the best in the history of the Hawks. Established career highs, both of which he tied this year, in points (26) vs. Denver (3/11/77) and in assists (16) against Washington, also as a rookie. Hill has collected 1,310 assists in his career, ranking ninth on the all-time Hawks leader list.

COLLEGE/HIGH SCHOOL — Directed Princeton to the 1975 NIT Championship and the 1976 Ivy League title. Captained the Tigers for two seasons. As a senior, Hill led the club in scoring (14.3), assists (10.4), and steals (73). In 1976, Princeton led the nation in defense, 52.8 points allowed per game, and finished 22-5. Hill was a two-time high school All-America performer at Bishop Ford.

PERSONAL — Hill spent the summer playing in charity All-Star games in New York. Nickname is "Army". Co-Captain of the Hawks with Drew.

Eddie Johnson

POSITION: Guard
HEIGHT: 6-2
WEIGHT: 180
COLLEGE: Auburn '77
PRO EXPERIENCE: Two Years
BIRTHDATE: February 24, 1955
BIRTHPLACE: Ocala, Florida
RESIDENCE: Atlanta, Georgia
HIGH SCHOOL: Lake Weir (Weirsdale, FL)

Selected by Atlanta in the third round (49th pick) of the 1977 Draft.

1978-79 SEASON — Though he did not rank among the league leaders, Johnson ranked second on the club in almost every category: scoring average (16.0), average minutes (30.9), field goal percentage (.510), assists (360), and steals (121). Led the team in one category he'd rather forget about - turnovers (213). Scored his career high of 30 points in a double overtime win at Milwaukee (1/10), launching a six-game Hawk winning streak. In the last 17 games of the season, he shot .566 (111-196) from the floor. Set new personal highs in every category but two — field goals made and assists. Started 77 of his 78 games, missing only the season opener at Indiana. Johnson had 71 double figure scoring nights, second only to Drew, and led the club 11 times. Had another great playoff year, averaging 16.4 points a game and shooting .508 from the floor. Garnered the only individual honor bestowed upon a Hawk by the league when he was named to the second team of the NBA's All-Defensive squad.

CAREER — Career field goal percentage of .499 is the best-ever by a Hawk guard and is fourth overall. Came into his own with back-to-back scoring nights of 29 (New Orleans) and 25 (at Washington) in March of his rookie season. The playoffs bring out the best in Johnson with two-year statistics of a 16.3 scoring average and a field goal percentage of .546. Owns 113 career starts and combines with Hill to form one of the best starting guard combinations in the league. Johnson was named second team All-Rookie by Basketball Digest following the 1977-78 season.

COLLEGE/HIGH SCHOOL — All-time leading scorer in Auburn history with 1,988 points, breaking the record of Chicago's John Mengelt. Owned a 19.4 college career scoring average, with a high game of 39 points against Tennessee as a junior. Led the nation's freshmen in scoring with a 21.8 average in 1974 and was the first freshman ever to lead the SEC in scoring. Named a freshman All-American and SEC Freshman-of-the-Year. Set Auburn assist record as a junior and finished with 499 college assists. At Lake Weir High, Johnson averaged 32 points a game. Ranked 17th scholastically and won the Outstanding Student Award his senior year.

PERSONAL — College teammate of Cleveland's Mike Mitchell. Nicknames are "Fast Eddie" and "E.J.".

Tom McMillen

54

POSITION: Forward
HEIGHT: 6-11
WEIGHT: 225
COLLEGE: Maryland '74
PRO EXPERIENCE: Four Years
BIRTHDATE: May 26, 1952
BIRTHPLACE: Mansfield, Pennsylvania
RESIDENCE: Annapolis, Maryland
HIGH SCHOOL: Mansfield

Selected by Buffalo in the first round (9th pick) of the 1974 Draft. Traded with Bob McAdoo to the New York Knicks for John Gianelli and cash, December 9, 1976. Traded to Atlanta for a second round draft choice, November 1, 1977.

1978-79 SEASON — The only Hawk besides Hill to play in all 82 games, coming off the bench each time. Averaged 7.0 points and 4.0 rebounds in only 17.0 minutes a game. Led the Hawks in free throw shooting at .891, but ended the season 19 free throw conversions short of qualifying for the league lead. Set a club record by converting 47 consecutive free throws. Led the Hawks in scoring three times and rebounding twice. Had season highs of 22 points against Chicago (3/3) and 12 rebounds against San Diego (11/0). McMillen shot much better from the Omni floor than on foreign courts, owning a .510 shooting percentage at home and just .420 on the road. Scored his playoff high of 19 points at Washington in game five when the Hawks were down three games to one.

CAREER — Played a year in Italy while a Rhodes Scholar in Oxford, England, then joined Buffalo for the 1975-76 season. Notched career highs of 31 points against Houston and 19 rebounds against Phoenix while playing with the Knicks, both coming at Madison Square Gardens during the 76-77 season. Broke into the starting line-up with the Hawks during the second half of the 77-78 season and averaged 12.5 points and 7.9 rebounds while shooting .523 from the floor in 31 starts. Led the Hawks in field goal percentage in 77-78 at .493.

COLLEGE — Three-time All-American at Maryland where he established an all-time scoring mark of 1,807 points, averaging 20.5 points and 9.8 rebounds a game. Led Maryland to the 1972 NIT Championship and was named the tournament's MVP. McMillen also played on the 1972 United States Olympic team in Munich.

PERSONAL — McMillen is the only Rhodes Scholar in Professional basketball today. Donned the cover of Sports Illustrated as a high school senior in 1970. Has many outside interests; once served on former President Richard Nixon's Council on Physical Fitness, serves on the advisory committee of St. Jude's Children's Hospital and is the National Sports Chairman for St. Jude's, owns and operates the Eastern Shore Basketball Camp and is the chairman of the Board for Sports Fitness International.

Wayne "Tree" Rollins

POSITION: Center
HEIGHT: 7-1
WEIGHT: 235
COLLEGE: Clemson '77
PRO EXPERIENCE: Two years
BIRTHDATE: June 15, 1955
BIRTHPLACE: Winter Haven, Florida
RESIDENCE: College Park, Georgia
HIGH SCHOOL: Crisp County (Cordele, GA)

Selected by Atlanta in the first round (14th pick) of the 1977 Draft.

1978-79 SEASON — Finished the season as the third leading shot blocker in the league for the second consecutive season at better than three blocks a game. Shared the league leadership in disqualifications with Drew at 19, but had only four in the last half of the season. Led the Hawks in field goal percentage at .535, including a .570 mark at home. Pumped in a career high 27 points at Indiana (1/7) and had three 20-point scoring nights on the year. Rollins had 24 double figure rebounding nights, including a career high 17 twice, and led the club in rebounding in 17 games, both second only to Roundfield. Set an all-time Hawks record with 12 blocked shots against Portland (2/21) and blocked seven or more shots in eight games last season.

CAREER — In just two seasons, Rollins has blocked 472 shots, tops on the all-time Hawks list. Career field goal percentage of .512 is also a Hawks record. Has a total of 11 games in which he has blocked seven or more shots in his first two seasons. Foul trouble has kept Rollins from reaching his full potential as he had fouled out of 35 games in his career. Named to the second team of the league's All-Rookie team in 77-78 in the vote by league media.

COLLEGE/HIGH SCHOOL — Led Clemson to a 22-6 record as a senior. Holds ten school records, including career marks in field goal percentage (.539), rebounds (1,311), rebounding average (11.9) and blocked shots (450). Collegiate high was a 28-point effort against Tennessee Tech. Played on the U.S. Pan American and U.S. Continental teams. High School All-American as a senior at Crisp County.

PERSONAL — Married the former Kathy Watts this past summer on July 14th. Made several appearances around Atlanta during the summer, including two clinics for the underprivileged. Cousin of teammate Eddie Johnson.

COLLEGE: Central Michigan '75
PRO EXPERIENCE: Four Years
BIRTHDATE: May 26, 1953
BIRTHPLACE: Detroit, Michigan
RESIDENCE: Roswell, Georgia
HIGH SCHOOL: Chadsey (Detroit)

Selected by Indiana in the first round of the 1975 ABA Draft. Entered the NBA with Indiana in 1976. Signed by Atlanta as a free agent, June 9, 1978.

1978-79 SEASON — Voted the club's MVP by his teammates. Only Hawk to rank in the league's top ten in two categories, finishing seventh in blocked shots at 2.2 per game and tenth in rebounding in 10.8. Became the first Hawk to average in double figures in rebounding since Drew did so as a rookie. Roundfield was second only to Moses Malone in offensive rebounds with 326. Also led the team in minutes (2539 31.7) and was third in field goal percentage (.504), scoring average (15.3) and turnovers (209). His 15.3 scoring average marked a personal best in a four-year career. Scored a career high 38 points at San Diego (11/21) and reached the 30-point mark four times. Pulled down a season high 20 rebounds against Philadelphia (3/6), the most by a Hawk this season, and led the club in rebounding in 44 games. Top scorer (17.6) and rebounder (11.7) for the Hawks in the playoffs.

CAREER — In the last three seasons, Roundfield has developed into one of the games top forwards and is best known for his rebounding and shot blocking talents. In 220 NBA games, he has blocked 456 shots and averaged 9.9 rebounds a game. Established a career high of nine blocked shots against Buffalo three years ago and a rebounding standard of 25 against Detroit while still with the Pacers in a game he also scored 36 points, all with a cast on his hand. His 176 blocks puts him in a tie for second on the all-time Hawks list while his .504 field goal percentage is third and 10.8 rebounding mark ranks fifth.

COLLEGE — Led Central Michigan to the 1975 Mid-American Conference championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament. Named MAC Player-of-the-Year in 1975 and Co-MVP of the NCAA Mid-East Regional with Indiana's Kent Benson after blocking eight shots in losing to Kentucky. One of four players in MAC history to collect more than 1000 points and 1000 rebounds in a career. Averaged 16.7 points and 12.7 rebounds a game and set a league record in field goal percentage with a mark of .612. Collegiate highs were 33 points against Michigan State and 26 rebounds.

PERSONAL — Dan and his wife, Bernie, have two sons; Corey, 3, and Christopher, born last March 31st. Nickname is "Rounds".

POSITION: Guard
HEIGHT: 6-5
WEIGHT: 200
COLLEGE: Louisville '78
PRO EXPERIENCE: One Year
BIRTHDATE: February 7, 1956
BIRTHPLACE: Louisville, Kentucky
RESIDENCE: Louisville, Kentucky
HIGH SCHOOL: Atherton, (Louisville)

Selected by Atlanta in the second round (25th pick) of the 1978 Draft.

1978-79 SEASON — Gave the Hawks versatility off the bench as he played every position except center during the course of the season. A very strong player who can handle the ball, Wilson played his role but was unable to get the playing time to collect much in the way of statistics. Scored his high of 10 points twice, against Golden State (11/2) and Portland (1/17). Top rebounding night of the year came in the home opener when Wilson grabbed 7 rebounds against Detroit (10/14).

COLLEGE/HIGH SCHOOL — Drafted by the Hawks in the second round after guiding Louisville to the Metro-Seven Conference Championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament. Wilson tallied 28 points in the title game victory over Florida State, 94-93. Named the Metro-Seven Co-Player-of-the-Year with FSU's Harry Davis, now with the Cleveland Cavaliers. An excellent outside shooter, he ended his college career with a .520 field goal percentage. His 419 assists and 534 rebounds shows the all-around performance he can contribute.

PERSONAL — Hubie Brown saw Wilson play at Louisville when the Hawks coach was directing the Kentucky Colonels of the old ABA. Wilson and his wife, Jackie, reside in Louisville.

Larry Wilson

POSITION: Forward
HEIGHT: 6-6
WEIGHT: 200
COLLEGE: Nicholls State '79
PRO EXPERIENCE: Rookie
BIRTHDATE: May 24, 1956

Selected by Atlanta in the second round (38th pick) of the 1979 Draft.

Drafted in the second round, Larry Wilson comes to the Hawks with the reputation of an outstanding shooter and scorer. A three-time Division II All-American at Nicholls State, Wilson's four-year statistics are impressive. For his career, Wilson owned a 25.7 scoring average along with shooting percentages of .520 from the floor and .835 from the line. The 6-foot-6 forward became only the 18th player below the Division I level in NCAA basketball history to score more than 2,500 points and average better than 25 points a game for a career. His high game was a 48-point effort against Jacksonville State and Wilson scored 20 or more points in 79 of his 100 games and less than 12 just twice. Wilson led the Colonels to a 71-34 record in four years and holds 42 Nicholls State and Gulf Coast Conference records.
